

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT AUSTIN
BUTLER SCHOOL OF MUSIC

SUGGESTED MINIMUM PROGRAM BEYOND THE BACCALAUREATE FOR THE Ph.D. IN MUSIC

MUSICOLOGY

The M.A. or M.M. degree is not a requirement for admission to the Ph.D. program, but it is assumed that most candidates for the Ph.D. degree will have successfully completed equivalent work.

There is no stipulated number of hours required. The major requirement is the official advancement to candidacy, after the successful completion of qualifying doctoral examinations, and examination in two foreign languages.

A typical course work program would include the following:

6	MUS 381J	Topic 1: Foundations of Musicology Topic 2: Foundations of Ethnomusicology
6	MUS 380	Two Advanced Studies courses in the History and Culture of Music
33	MUS 385J MUS 385	Eleven graduate seminars on specific topics in musicology, two primarily ethnomusicological. A graduate seminar on issues of music theory/composition (MUS 688) may be elected. (topics of graduate seminars in historical musicology will include notation, history of theory, performance practice, etc)
3	MUS 388T MUS 388M	Analytical Techniques (to be taken during first year of study) or Topic 1: Foundations of Music Theory
9		Elective courses approved by the faculty (based on the area counselor's recommendations)
6	MUS 399R/W	Dissertation

63 hours

Musicology doctoral students are required to pass two proficiency examinations in languages other than English (normally German and a Romance language), chosen by the student and approved by petition to the Division. Additional language study may be necessary, depending on the focus of the student's research.

The first language requirement should ideally be fulfilled by the end of the second semester of residence. The second language requirement must be fulfilled before advancement to candidacy for the doctoral degree, and ideally by the end of the fourth semester of residence.

Students are required to pass a comprehensive examination before being advanced to candidacy for the Ph.D.
